

Bring beatbox to your school with Pass The Beat!

About the Program:

Pass The Beat is an innovative educational concept designed for students K-12.

With this interactive program, students will not only witness spectacular beatbox performances, but also become curious about its fascinating history and quickly learn how to do it for themselves.

Using only the human voice as an instrument, beatbox requires no tools or materials and is fully accessible to all learners. An entire school can participate in beatboxing simultaneously. We'll show you how!

Why choose Beatboxing?

Students will uncover the power of their own curiosity and imagination. Beatboxing's accessibility empowers them to make music wherever they go. However, Beatboxing isn't only about making music, it's an important tool in every day life, with many hidden benefits:

- Speech Pathology
- Creativity & Self Expression
- Individuality & Self-Confidence
- Social Emotional Learning
- Fun & Safe Hobby
- Mind-Body Connection
- And more...

Our Teachers

Leading the program, Jack Gross is a professional musician with a music degree from New York University. He is a highly skilled beatboxer and educator, with experience teaching groups from Pre-K to Adult. You can expect excellence, consistency, and age-appropriate guidance with every "Pass the Beat" program.

Why is Pass The Beat Perfect for Students

Pass the Beat offers a hands-on, self-directed, and deeply satisfying learning experience where students learn through doing rather than passive instruction.

Because our program needs no equipment, our program produces zero waste.

Custom Programs Just for You!

- Assemblies: Enrich the entire school community through the magic of beatbox.
- Small Group: Intimate sessions which deepen concentration and peer-to-peer collaboration.
- Musical Showcase: Invite families & friends to join in the experience.
- Custom Programming: Fully customizable to be integrated into your specific environment.
